

eRange. Particularly Perfect

To us – Every single detail matters.

The eRange comprises of many different details and designs– all of which are perfect. The highest quality comes as standard with the eRange. We know you'll appreciate this; after all the success such as yours could have only been achieved by a perfectionist.

eRange design is inspired by the most desirable modern technology in the market: the totally ergonomic products from Apple.

Creation of a system whose design would make it stand out from other competitive managerial office systems was commissioned to two young, promising designers of Platform Studio.

Gernot Oberfell and Jan Wertel were apprentices to their master Rossa Lovegrove (enthusiast of biology, the designer of Apple's iMac). They now run their design studio in London.

They are young, ambitious and have already been noticed. One of their works (Fractal) is included in the permanent collection of Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

A contemporary yet timeless system. The 'e' refers to state of the art electronics but also stands for 'essential'. To us, even the smallest details. In the eRange details are closed within an extraordinary and stylish form that is dynamic yet soft.

The eRange is a fully researched system – modern and sleek, comfortable and ergonomic, yet elegant. This is a system for an executive position – for those that are demanding of others who can also be demanding of themselves. There are no irrelevant ideas on the eRange. Even the smallest detail is of great importance as it contributes towards the elegance and design of the desk. The desk is stylish yet modest – for those with class, there is no need to show off.

Organic curves, reduced and simple form, modern colour patterns, most carefully designed functionality and aesthetics emphasising individualism.

Gender has a great influence on working methods and women and men are obviously different when it comes to their management styles. In eRange, for sure – everyone will find something for themselves.
